PLAY IT AGAIN!

Without music, an eternal shadow of darkness would hang over the world. Music is a feeling, not just a continual pulsing of beats and notes. Music is an emotional experience full of laughter, tears and joy.

On September 26, 1987, the Maumee Marching Panthers participated in the 17th annual Defiance Band Festival. The 76 Panthers and three directors arrived at Defiance High School around 5:30 p.m. having just enough time to unload instruments and receive their placement in the massed-band finale.

Having less than 30 minutes until show time, band members had just enough time to tune, grab dinner, and wrestle with spats, gloves and plumes. The show started with a display of colors, with each band marching past the crowd playing their fight song.

Tears started flowing during the National Anthem performed by the Western Michigan Band. The Maumee Panthers performed first, entering the field with Back to the Future. The second number, La Bamba and the third Twist and Shout, were done in concert position. Next we highlighted the percussion section with a special arrangement of Trepak.

The final number, Freedom, featured soloist Jeff Hayden on trumpet and Sarah Neyhart on piccolo. Drum Major Ron Spohn was also featured with a mace toss.

When the Panthers high-stepped off the field, they were greeted with a standing ovation and shouts of "more." Back at the band stand, there were tears, hugs, laughter and a general shortage of tissues. Fremont High School, Gahanna-Lincoln High School, Defiance High School and Western Michigan University performed beautiful shows and added to the excitement, as well as Bowling Green High School.

All too soon it was time for the awards. Heeding the tradition that it is lucky to be the last drum majors on the sideline, our drum majors, Sean Severance and Ron Spohn marched two steps away from the sideline until all the other drum majors had reached the sideline position.

The festival ended with the massed-band spectacular. The seven bands continued to play This is My Country and God Bless America in a U.S.A. formation while fireworks went off behind them.

Pep Band

From the far corner in the gym at most home basketball games, a variety of popular, jazz and march style music can be heard coming from the Maumee High School Pep Band.

The pep band at Maumee consists of members of the symphony and marching bands. All members play on a volunteer basis and most members have a minimum of four years playing experience on their instruments. It is also a relaxed group offering students an opportunity to further their musical experiences through solo and sectional solo work. Most of the music performed is music from past years and music worked up during the early part of the current school year.

Besides performing at home basketball games the pep band also performs at pep rallies, special appearances and a super bowl halftime rally at Dominic's Restaurant on Reynolds Road.

Orchestra

Steinhurst, Syma Warnock, Diane Keiser. Tubas: Bill Brixey, Andy Hutchison. Oboe: Cindy Wittman. Trombones: Duffy Dobelbower, Andrew Mechel, George Warejko. Baritones: Nate Goetz, Dawn Miller, Sundae Nolte. T-Sax: Jeff Farthing, Jodi Hansen. A-Xax: Dave Dobryzkowski, Kellie Hintz, Kathy Keubbeler, Jenny Murbach, Mike Tucker. Percussion: Chink Allen, Bruce Snyder, Bryan Spears.

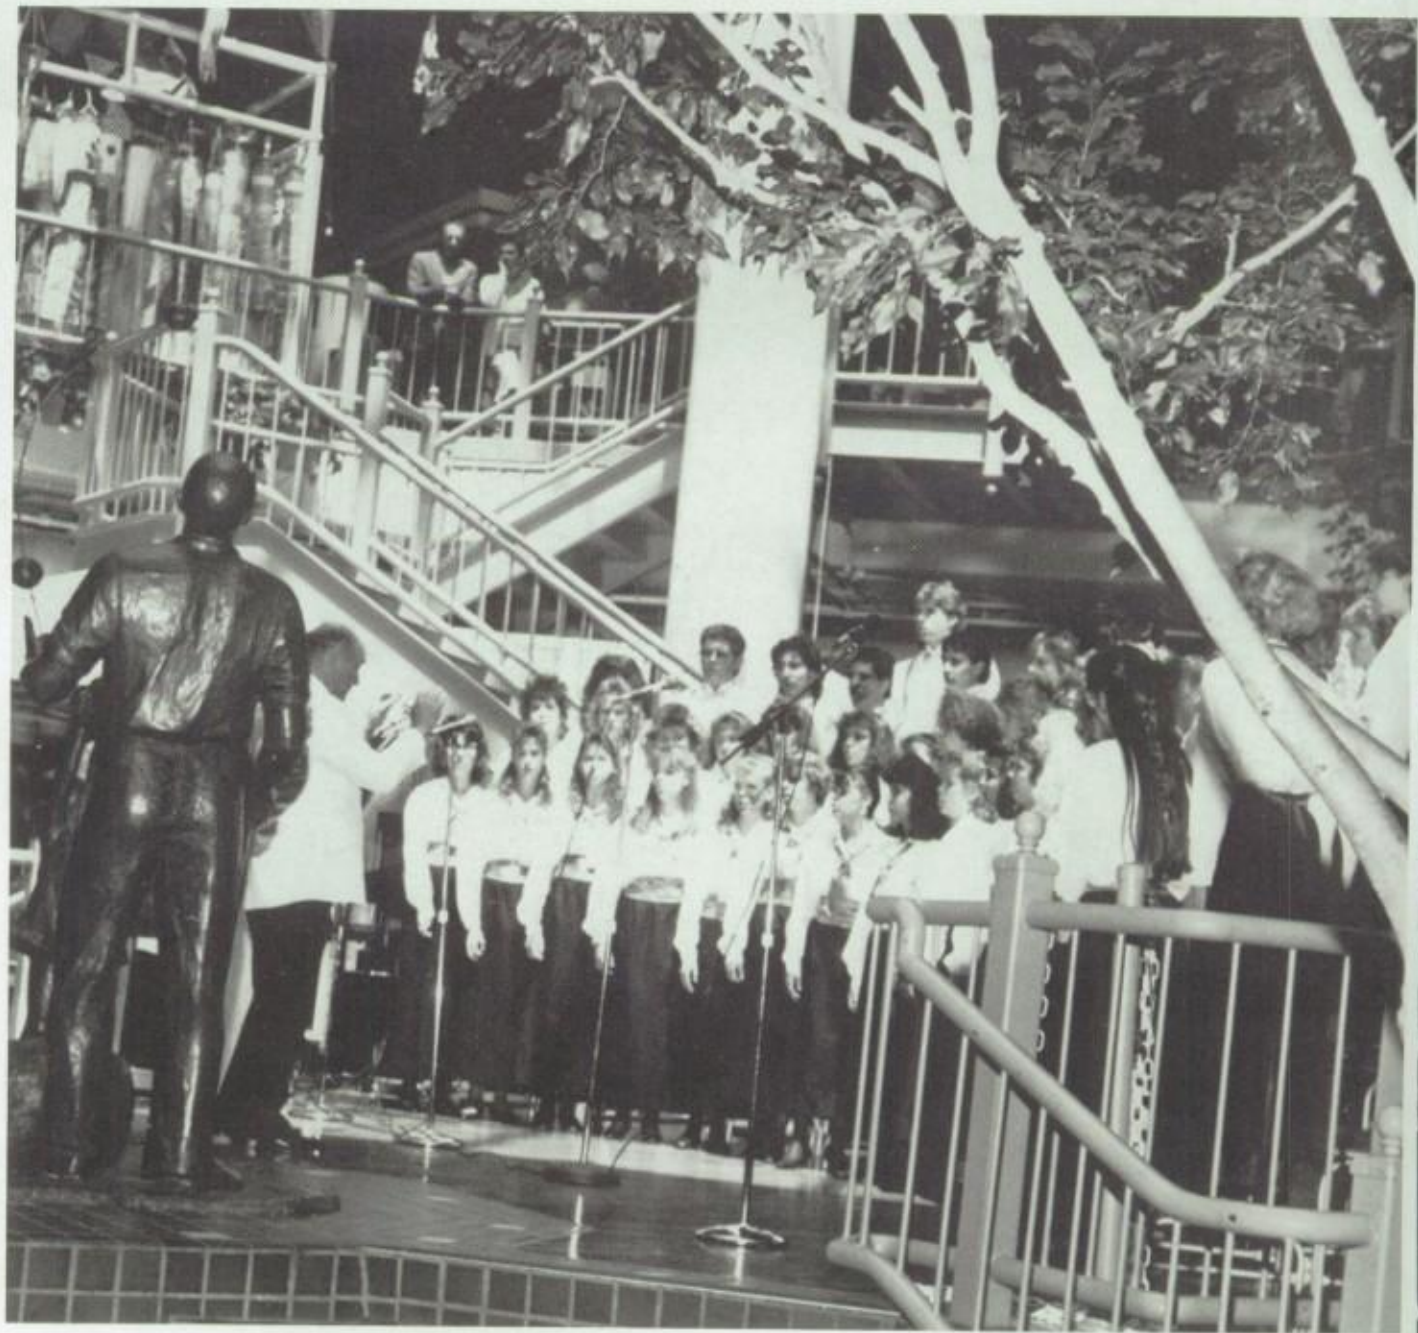

Orchestras consist of groups of musicians who mostly specialize in classical works, playing string, brass woodwind and percussion instruments.

The Maumee High School orchestra is no exception. It consists of eleven members and their director Mrs. Therese Simmons. The overtures are performed by six violinists: Molly Harbaugh (Concertmaster), Tim Ferris, Phil Berger, Aaron Brunn, Kim Arquette and Charlene Collins; Violists: Mike Brennan and Amy Bires; Cellist: Jannette Brennan; Bass Player: Robb Degg and Pianist Alison Guesses. During the 1987-1988 school year, the Orchestra made quite a name for itself making more than four public performances. These appearances included a string festival at Southview High School (November 11, 1987), a concert for the school board (November 16, 1987), a Christmas concert with the Gateway Orchestra, a nursing home tour, an appearance at the Methodist Church (April 12, 1988), and a spring concert (May 26, 1988).

The orchestra has introduced a new concept to Maumee called "Strolling Strings." The musicians memorize popular pieces and stroll amongst the guests while playing. This is an exciting twist for the Maumee High School Orchestra.
